

PHOTOGRAPHY PORTFOLIO

ITM23903: PHOTOGRAPHY
TECHNIQUES AND TECHNOLOGY

ABOUT ME

NAME : NUR IFFAH NADHIRAH
BINTI AZMI

MATRIC NUMBER : 077913

AGE : 22 YEARS OLD

SEMESTER : 3

PRESENTED BY: NUR IFFAH NADHIRAH BINTI AZMI
(077913)

THEME

REZEKI DI LAUT: THE HANDS THAT FEED

STORY

The theme “Rezeki di Laut: The Hands that Feed” follows the quiet rhythm of a fisherman’s life, his connection to the sea, the labor of his hands, and the traces he leaves behind. Each day begins before sunrise, with hopes cast into the waves and ends with the weight of the catch laid upon the shore.

Beyond the sea, his journey continues, sorting, selling, and sharing the harvest with those who depend on it. His wife stands beside him, her hands just as familiar with the trade, a quiet strength that completes the cycle. The sand remembers his steps, though the tide will soon wash them away. But his presence lingers, in the boats resting onshore, in the ropes tied securely, and in the enduring spirit of those who call the ocean their home.

Through these images, we glimpse a world shaped by patience, perseverance, and the never-ending dance between man and sea.

CAPTURED MOMENTS

ORIGINAL

Shot on Nikon D7500

ISO : 400

APERTURE : f/7.1

SHUTTER SPEED : 1/100 sec

EDITED

A low-angle shot captures the fishermen's boats towering above, their wooden hulls lined up against the sky. The perspective emphasizes the sturdy vessels that brave the unpredictable sea.

CAPTURED MOMENTS

ORIGINAL

Shot on Nikon D7500

ISO - 400
APERTURE - f/7.1
SHUTTER SPEED - 1/250 sec

EDITED

A table filled with freshly caught fish, glistening under the sunlight. In the background, the fishermen rest in a small wooden hut, their silhouettes telling a story of exhaustion and satisfaction after a long day at sea.

CAPTURED MOMENTS

ORIGINAL

Shot on Nikon D7500

ISO : 400
APERTURE : f/7.1
SHUTTER SPEED : 1/200 sec

EDITED

A fisherman firmly holds two large fish, showcasing his hard-earned catch. In front of him, more fish lay in piles, a testament to the sea's generosity. Behind him, other fishermen can be seen, busy with their own tasks, their presence adding depth to the scene.

CAPTURED MOMENTS

ORIGINAL

Shot on Nikon D7500

ISO : 400
APERTURE : f/7.1
SHUTTER SPEED : 1/160 sec

EDITED

The wife of one of the fishermen, holds up the massive head of a fish, its sheer size awe-inspiring. Her expression, whether of pride, curiosity, or amusement, tells a story of her connection to this way of life.

CAPTURED MOMENTS

ORIGINAL

Shot on Nikon D7500

ISO : 400

APERTURE : f/7.1

SHUTTER SPEED : 1/2000 sec

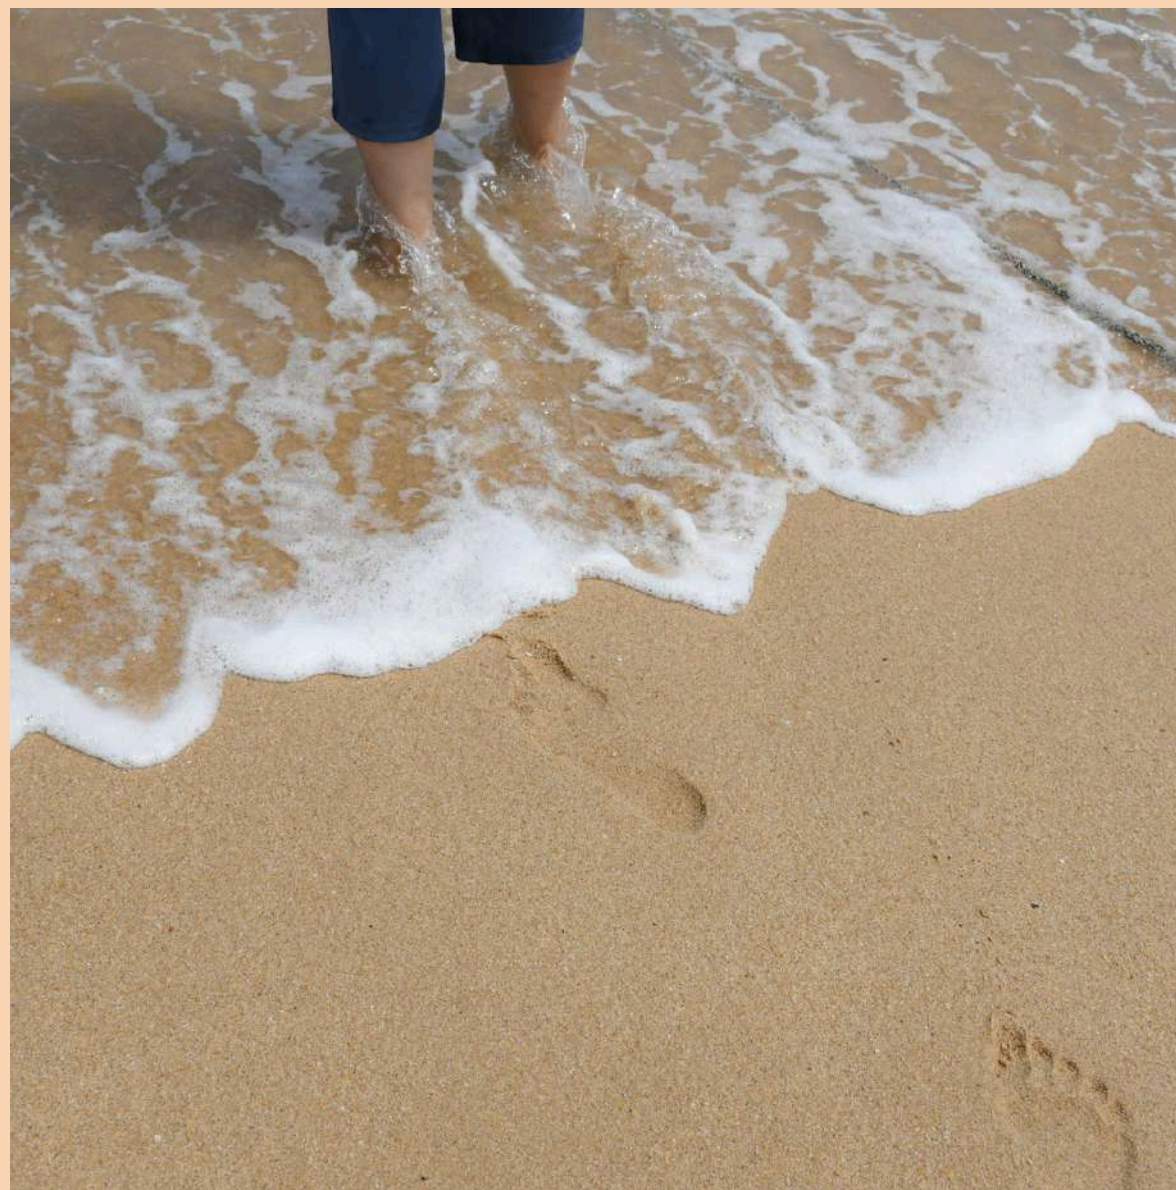

EDITED

The footprints of a fisherman pressed into the damp sand, a simple yet powerful reminder of his presence. The patterns left behind by his steps contrast with the smoothness of the untouched shore.

CAPTURED MOMENTS

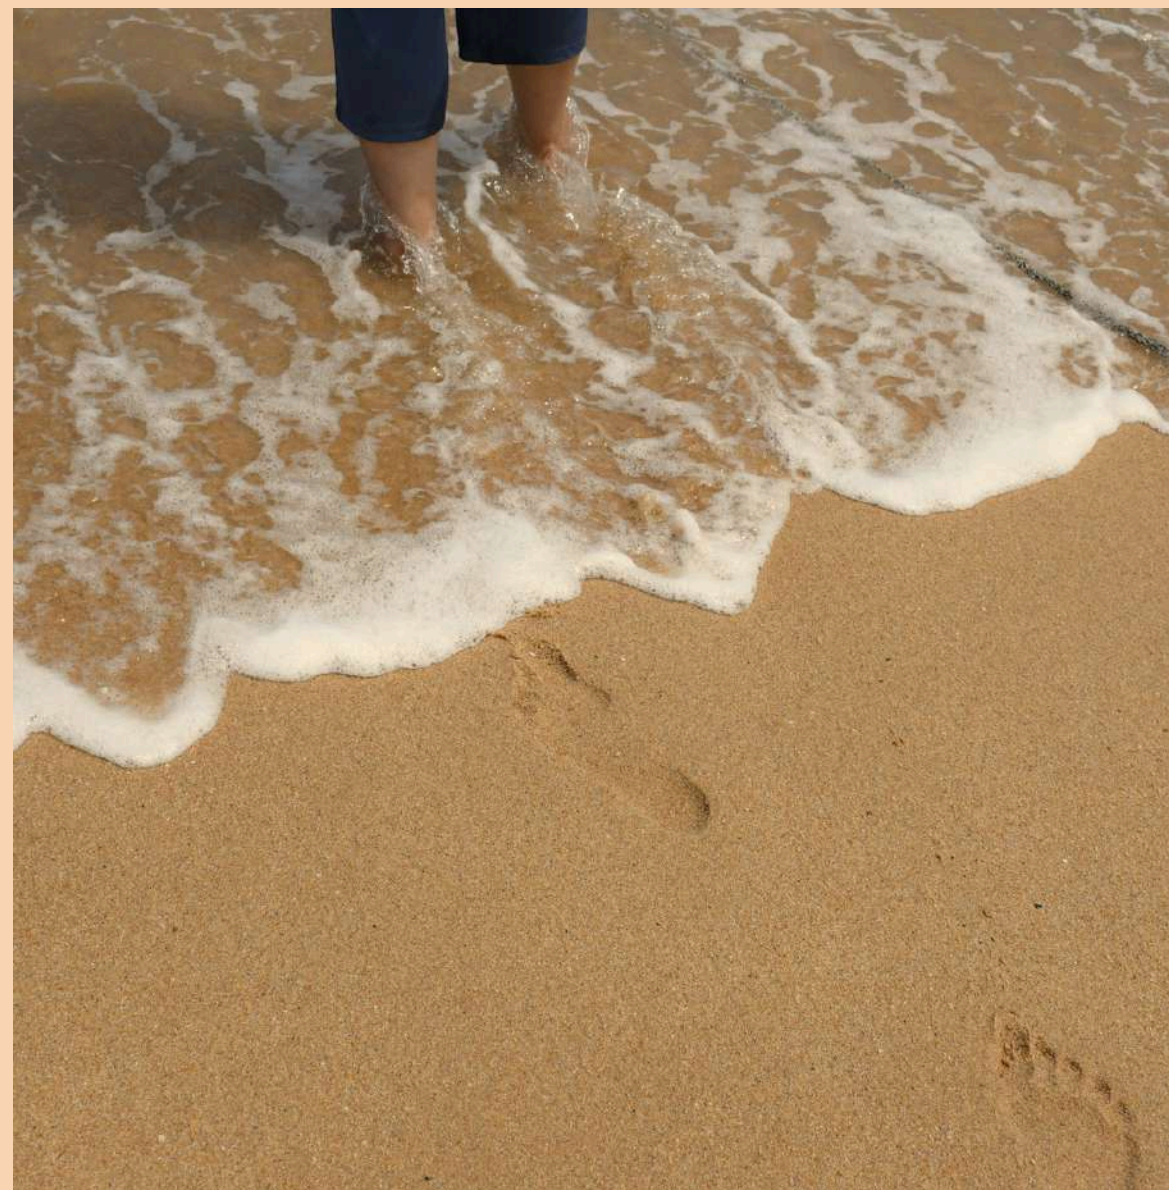

ORIGINAL

Shot on Nikon D7500

ISO : 400
APERTURE : f/7.1
SHUTTER SPEED : 1/2500 sec

EDITED

Waves gently wash over the fisherman's footprints, erasing them as he prepares to board his boat. A poetic moment that reflects the fleeting nature of time and human presence against the vastness of the ocean.

CAPTURED MOMENTS

ORIGINAL

Shot on Nikon D7500

ISO : 400

APERTURE : f/7.1

SHUTTER SPEED : 1/200 sec

EDITED

A fisherman secures his boat to a worn-out tire that has washed up on the shore. The image symbolizes resilience, as even discarded objects find new purpose in a life shaped by the tides.

EDITING

Adobe Photoshop was used for post-processing to enhance the images while preserving their authenticity. Adjustments were made to brightness and contrast to emphasize the textures of the fish and the fishermen's surroundings, creating a visually striking yet natural look. Subtle color corrections were applied to ensure a cohesive and harmonious tone that reflects the raw beauty of the fishing life.

BEHIND THE SCENE

CONCLUSION

This photo series, Rezeki di Laut: The Hands that Feed, captures the resilience and dedication of the fishermen who depend on the sea for their livelihood. Through careful composition, lighting, and post-processing, the images highlight the essence of their daily lives, from the abundance of their catch to the traces they leave behind on the shore. Each frame tells a story of hard work, fleeting moments, and an unspoken bond with nature. In the end, this series is not just about one fisherman, but a tribute to all who brave the tides, their hands shaping the very sustenance that feeds communities.

SPECIAL THANKS TO

I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to the following:

1. My Parents for their unwavering support, encouragement, and assistance throughout this project, for their constant love, motivation, and belief in me, which inspired me to give my best effort.
2. Sir Mohd Sufian bin Mat Deris – My ITM 23903 lecturer, for his guidance and valuable insights that shaped the success of this portfolio. Your contributions and support have been invaluable, and I am truly grateful.

Rezeki di Laut: The Hands that Feed

[https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1z8Kgme_As tQEuJJZ2dsot39u3lbsQLX
b?usp=drive_link](https://drive.google.com/drive/folders/1z8Kgme_AstQEuJJZ2dsot39u3lbsQLXb?usp=drive_link)